

POLITICIANS LINED UP IN MONTGOMERY CO.

Primary Lists Closed and Certificates Show Fight Ahead For Democrats.

ROCKVILLE, Aug. 25.—At 12 o'clock last night the time allowed by the primary election law for candidates for nominations for county offices to file with the supervisors of elections, certificates of their candidacy and make the specified cash deposits, expired.

The certificates show there will be a fight for each of the Democratic nominations, in addition to contests for places on the State central committee. In a number of the districts, there will also be fights for membership on the county committee.

The official list of Democratic aspirants is as follows: For State's attorney, Albert M. Bouie and Alexander Kilgour; for clerk of the circuit court, J. Darby Bowman and Preston B. Ray; for the house of delegates, James N. Barnard, Charles F. Brooke, John Gardner, Philip D. Laird, Francis Snowden, Paul Y. Waters, J. Furr White, and Alfred Wilson; for sheriff, William L. Aud, J. Melvin Etchison, W. Frank Gaither, and Thomas L. Lechler; for registrar of wills, H. Clinton Allnutt, William T. Griffith, and Joseph Reading; for judges of the orphans' court, J. Thomas Austin, Edward O. Brown, Winfield S. Magruder, Milford Offutt, Alfred C. Tison, and John E. West; for county commissioner, Third district, H. Hazel Metzger and Norman Westcott; for county commissioner, Fourth district, Edward P. Beall, George G. Bradley, Jr., and Richard L. Saunders; for county surveyor, W. Ernest Offutt; for the State central committee, Alexander G. Carlisle, Richard E. Darby, Charles G. Griffith, Robert G. Hilton, William H. Wade, and Harry C. Williams.

There are no contests among the Republicans for nominations, consequently the State central committee, as provided by law, will make up the ticket, which will, it is understood, include all of these endorsed by a recent county convention, as follows: For State's attorney, J. Dann Faber; for clerk of the circuit court, Harry A. Dawson; for sheriff, Henry Latimer; for the house of delegates, Paul Slaman, George D. Curran, Edward D. Lewis and William E. Brown; for registrar of wills, Ormsby McCommon; for judges of the orphans' court, Henry O. Chaney, R. Woodfield, and Harrison G. Ward; for county commissioner, third district, Windsor W. Hodges.

For places on the Republican State central committee, a big fight is in prospect. The recent party convention endorsed the present members of the committee—C. Boone, Duval, Thomas Dawson, Galen L. Tait, D. W. Baker and William H. Johnson, all of whom filed certificates of candidacy with the supervisors of elections.

Late yesterday, Brainerd H. Warner, Jr., who is an aspirant for the Congressional nomination next year, filed certificates of four additional candidates, thereby making certain a contest at the primary election. The Warner candidates are: Bradley H. Dugrey, Nevin S. Burrier, Carlton B. Stabler and John Addison.

THROUGHS ARE GAY AT ROCKVILLE TODAY

To Scare Off Dull Feeling, So They Say—Some Prize Winners Named.

STAND OF CARDINAL IS SURPRISE HERE

Warning to Keep Off England's Ships Much Like Advice of W. J. Bryan.

Cardinal Gibbons' utterances against persons who endanger the neutrality of their country by using belligerent merchantmen for trans-Atlantic travel caused considerable comment in Government circles today. The chief point in the cardinal's remarks, it was pointed out, was their striking resemblance to the statements of former Secretary Bryan at the time he resigned.

Cardinal Gibbons, though urging no remedial action, spoke strongly against Americans taking the risk of crossing the United States into war by plunging on British vessels. Former Secretary Bryan, at the time of his resignation, urged that some means be adopted by this Government to prevent Americans taking passage on such vessels, and if it was impossible to check them, to serve warning on passengers that the Government could not be responsible for their safety if they persisted in using vessels of other than American registry.

Is Deeply Grieved.

The cardinal on his return to Baltimore expressed himself forcibly about the crisis with Germany over the sinking of the Arabic. He is grieved over the possibility of the United States becoming involved in the terrible struggle. "War is a terrible thing," said the cardinal, "and we should not lightly jump into the strife that is tearing the world to pieces. We in this country know little of the harrowing conditions in the old countries. War seems to have a lot of glory and chivalry, but endless suffering and pain. The millions in Europe know now what war means."

"Then, too," he continued, "it seems a terrible cost to sacrifice thousands of young men—the life and sinew of the nation—just because a few insist on taking a risk. For it is nothing but a foolish risk for Americans to take the dare of traveling by ships that are in danger. Why should they court the danger?"

Take Less Risks.

"The sinking of the steamship Arabic precipitated the present crisis between the United States and Germany. This was an English vessel and it is deplorable that Americans take the risk of traveling on ships that are subject to such dangers.

"A true lover of America should sacrifice personal whims when the honor and the peace of the nation hang in the balance. It seems like asking too much to expect the country to stand up and fight just because a few are overdoing."

"Calvin thought and great prudence are what the nation requires in this crisis. We can rely on President Wilson to lead us right. The people should not in any manner hinder him in deciding the issue."

"Loud voiced opinions, no matter from what source, are untimely and only complicate matters. Both sides should be heard and I trust that President Wilson will wait until Germany explains herself or has a chance to explain."
